Understood. Penn State's delicate situation is why I raised the question.

Good luck with your work on behalf of Penn State. I will cheering for good outcomes.

Dear Dr. Roselle,

I spoke with Omar McNeill earlier today. Given the heightened sensitivities we face at Penn State, we both felt that we should probably seek someone with no previous ties to Judge Freeh's firm.

I appreciate your willingness to help us get a fine institution through a period of unprecedented challenge and upheaval.

With all good wishes,

When you speak to Lou Freeh, please ask his opinion about an issue (here in red) I raised in my note to Hank Foley. It is:

"One thing that you need to know is that I was a member of the Freeh team that worked with the University of Southern California when they had NCAA violations related to their football program (you may remember that Reggie Bush was associated with their problems). Our USC assignment was to make organizational and other suggestions that would result in a "culture of compliance".

"I do not think that my USC history creates a conflict of interest, but others might. In any event, I know, like and respect Lou Freeh and it is likely that I know some of those who he designated to be involved in the Penn State situation."

I hope that we will have a chance to meet.

Good morning, all. It is our good fortune to be connected with Dr. Roselle. As Chair Peetz suggests, I will discuss next steps with Judge Freeh.

Best regards,

Thanks Hank and hello Dave.

I have copied Ken Frazier who is heading our Special Investigative Committee. He is in dialogue about this with Judge Freeh directly. We will keep you posted about the status.

Separately I would love to arrange a time to speak with you about our upcoming search for a new President.

I have copied my Assistant, Yvonne, to reach out to you to schedule an introductory call.

Many thanks for your quick response and I will look forward to speaking with you soon.
